.The House Adopts the Ryan Bil Proposing a Cut of Five Cents After 1904.

THE PRIMARY BILL PASSED

Senate Adopts the Machen Measure-Conference on Appropriation Bill On.

Both branches of the General Assembly held three sessions yesterday, sitting noon, afternoon and evening, and accomplished a great deal of work.

The Senate passed the general approprintion bill, with a number of amend-ments, to which the House refused to A conference was asked and conforces named thereon. Not a great many changes were made by the Senate.

Mr. Ryan's bill to reduce the rate of State taxation on realty and personalty five cents on the one hundred dollars of valuation, effective after January 1st, 1907, was passed by the House-72 to 1. It was communicated to the Senate, but has not been touched by that body,

The Senate passed the Machen general The Senate passed the Machen general primary bill, and it was communicated to the House. This body refused to take up the oyster bill by a decisive vote, thus leaving it to die on the calendar.

The House killed the bill proposing to have commissioners of revenue appointed instead of elected. A resolution was offered to extend the session to March 18th, but it was not acted on.

The committee reported on the Grimth resolution, in relation to the Shepherd defalcation, directing that the attorney-general, report to the Governor within sixty days whether, in his opinion, the

After the usual preliminaries, the Senate proceeded to work on the appropriation will unfinished on Tucaday. The remainder of the session was consumed in reading the bill as it came from the House and consideration and action on the Senate committee amendments. The consideration of bill and ameridments was concluded just before 2 P. M., and the amended bill was passed. It goes back to the House for concurrence in the Senate amendments.

The Senate amendments to the appro-priations proposed in the bill as it came priations proposed in the bill as it came from the House, and which were agreed to by the Senate, are as follows:

A BLOW TO LOBBYING.
One of the most important amendments engrafted on the general appropriation bill was that offered by Mr. St. Clair and designed to prevent paid lobbying for increased or special appropriations to State institutions. The amendment consists of the following words appended to the provisions for State unstitutions:

to the provisions for State institutions:
"Provided that no part of the funds appropriated for the public institutions shall be paid to any person for appearing before the General Assembly."

Mr. Fulton spoke briefly, but earnestly for the amendment. He charged that it was notoriously true, that members of the Legislature had been approached by persons in the interest of State institutions and personally appealed to to vote for increased appropriations. He wanted to make it impossible for any portion of the appropriations to institutions to be used for lobbying.

The amendment was agreed to by prac-

Mr. Opic sought to have salaries of su-perintendents of State hospitals equalized and demanded to know upon what basis or theory a discrimination was made. It was a fact that the superintendent of the Colored Hospital received 22,500, while the head of the great white hospital, the Western, received but $2,250 Mr. Wickham and others defended the provisions of the bill, but Mr. Opie per-sisted in his opposition to the discrimination in salaries of superintendents Mr. Mcliwaine expressed a willingness o vote for an increase of salary of other superintendents, but he was unwilling to vote for a decrease in the salary of Dr. W. F. Drewry, who is one of the greatest alienists in the South, and was reriaining at his post at a personal sacrifice, when he could get more elsewhere. Mr. McIlwaine commended Dr. Drewry for his executive ability and his economical and intelligent administration of affeirs at the Central Hospital.

Mr. Opic endorsed the tribute to Dr. Drewry, but added that, like Dr. Johnson, he was fortunae in having in the senator from Petersburg a Boswell.

Mr. McIlwaine retorted that Dr. Drew-Mr. McIlwaine retorted that Dr. Drewry had a history; otherwise he would not need a historian. If any one desires to go, into comparisons, he added, I am ready to meet him, added the senator, with impressive emphasis. He thus threw down the gauntlet, challenging a comparison of the records of the various superintendents with that of Dr. Drewry. The challenge was not accepted and the incident ended.

LIBRARY PLAN DEFEATED. Mr. Walker sought to secure the estab-lishment of a system of traveling libra-ries in connection with State libraries, and proposed to amend the bill by ap-propriating $3,000 for traveling libraries, $1,200 for an assistant librarian; $400 for a stenographer, and $350 for electric stenographer, and $350 for

st. 200 for an assistant inferent, 200 a stenographer, and 350 for electric lights.

Mr. Walker briefly advocated the bill, contending that the proposed appropriation would put the library on a basis where it would be a great public benefit. He briefly outlined the scope of the proposed extension and the purpose of the appropriations asked.

Mr. Anderson, of Richmond, spoke in opposition to the plan as proposed, and cited the experience of this city, which for two years paid for keeping the Library open at pights. The bill was defeated by a vote of 16 to 16. Later the body agreed to an amendment providing a stenographer to assist in cataloguing the Library, at a salary of 2000, and to an appropriation of 4350 for electric lights. This defeats the traveling library scheme for the next two years, at least, see the second of the seco lights. In scheme two years, at least.
An amendment was offered to the general appropriation bill, proposing to appropriate $5,000 for the publication, under propriate $5,000 for the publication, under the auspices of the department of agri-culture, of a hand-book of Virgiria, de-scriptive of the State's resources. It was designed to be distributed widely at the St. Louis and Jamestown expositions, and was advocated by Mr. Chapman, Mr. Sadler and others, and opposed by Messrs. Keezell, Barksdale and others, and rejected—16 to 14.

Afternoon Session.

The features of the afternoon session were the passage of the Machen general primary bill by a vote of 19 to 15, and the refusal of the Senate to take up eral primary bill by a vote of 10 to 15, and the refusal of the Senate to take up the bill in relation to the Baylor survey, and providing for a commission, to investigate and report as to the havren, exhausted or depleted oyster rocks, beds and shoals therein.

With the appropriation bill disposed of, Mr. Machen called up the next special order, the general primary bill, of which he is the patron. Mr. Barksdale sought to induce him to refrain from speaking on the bill in order to expedite consideration of other matters, and offered to vote for the bill if its patron would not speak. Mr. Machen declined to accede, and Mr. Barksdale served notice that he would vote against the bill. He did so. MACHEN PRIMARY BILL PASSED.

Mr. Machen briefly explained the provisions of the measure. It leaves the expense of primaries on the parties conducting them; providing for appointing the judges and clerks by an electoral board chosen by the candidates; leaves it optional with the party authorities whether a primary or convention shall be had, but provides for electing delegates to a convention by primary, and requires voting to be by ballot. He pointed out the advantages of the bill, and appealed to the Senate to pass it.

There were no other speakers, and the bill was put on its engrossment and engrossed. A parliamentary tangle censued as to whether the measure was displaced as a special order by the vote to engross it. of the rules to put the bill on its pas-sage. The bill was thereupon put upon its passage and passed by the following Night Session.

The night session of the Senate last night was business from the drop of the gavel shortly after 8 until about 11 o'clock. All the minority senaors were absent, but there were more than thirty Democrats present, and they made the calendar thin by passing about thirty local bills. Practically all the uncontested and the local and private bills were disposed of, thus almost clearing up the

and the local and private bills were disposed of, thus almost clearing up the formidable calendar.

There were no debates and little unnecessary talking. It was business from the start to the finish. A great many of the bills passed were amendments to the Code, many of them consequential upon the new Constitution.

The Senate adjourned to meet at 10 A. M. to-day.

Mr. Read moved to dismiss the bill offered by Mr. Barnes, of Williamsburg, to authorize the issuance of a new bond by the board of supervisors of Mecklonburg in Liqu of one said to have been stolen by "Topeka Joe" when he burglarized the Peninsula Bank of Williamsburg.

Mr. Barnes appealed for the passage of the measure, and said the supervisors had refused to issue the duplicate unless authorized to do so by the Legislature. Mr. Read read a letter from the Commonwealth's atterney of Meckienburg opposing the bill, and it was advocated by Mr. Withers, who said that the effect of the failure of the passage of the bill would be to pracipitate a suit in which the Comonweilth's attorney would have to appear and be paid for his services. The motion to dismiss was lost and the bill was passed.

Night Session.

The House resumed business at 8 o'clock, and Speaker Ryan announced the appointment of Messrs. Boaz. Lacy and Turpin as conforces on the part of the House on the general appropriation bill. The joint committee will likely be able to report to-day. The attendance of members was good, and there were a number of visitors, among them being Hon. George W. Jones of Pittsylvania, and Hon. C. A. Woodard, of Norfolk.

On motion of Mr. Cardwell, the body decided to meet at 10 o'clock instead of 11 o'clock for its first session to-day.

A large number of uncontested bills were indvanced to their engrossment, some of them being of considerable interest and importance.

One was that offered by Mr. Ould, to establish efficient high schools in the counties, and the member from Campbell was so happy over its advancement that he declared he was now ready to go home. The Norfolk county toll-road bill was dismissed, and that to prohibit the use of intoxicating liquors by professors and officers in the State institutions, except on prescription, was passed by. The bill, however, created some amusement. The patron, Mr. Bridgforth, was on his feet to explain, when Mr. Howle moved to amend so as to include members of the General Assembly, pir. Green moved to pass by, and this course was taken.

The bill of Mr. Stubbs, looking to the establishment of a school for the education of the colored deaf and bilind, was engrossed, as was also that of Mr. Cardwell, one permitting the use of convicts for digging the foundation for the wings of the Capitol and the other to provide suitable quarters for the Governor and other Capitol officers while the building is being remoded, were advanced, and a large number of local measures weer also engrossed.

The body at 10 o'clock adjourned to meet at 10 o'clock to-day.
